Nationally, no, but at least in West Virginia, a Field Day Trophy is awarded to the group in the state(each competing group has to register for the trophy) which had the best relative score. I know because for the past several years, the trophy has gone to the Mountaineer Amateur Radio Association, a club I belonged to before I moved to Atlanta. I wonder if something similar is done in other areas?

ARLD014 DX news

Thanks to Steve, W9NUF, and the Northern Illinois DX Association for the items in this week's bulletin.

CONGO. TN1AT frequents DX nets on both 20 and 15 meters between 1500 and 1900z. QSL via F6FNU.

MAURITIUS. Jacky, 3B8CF, has been putting a strong signal into the ninth call area on 40 meter CW. Watch around 7005 kHz between 0200 and 0300z.

QATAR. A71CW was worked yesterday on 21021 kHz at 1630z. QSL to Box 22101, Doha, QATAR.

UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, UAE. A61AD will be active on all bands from March 24 to 29. QSL via WB2DND.

GALAPAGOS ISLANDS. N6KT will be QRV on CW and SSB as HC8A through the end of the month. Look for him during the WPX Contest. QSL via WV7Y.

BRITISH VIRGIN ISLANDS. Bob, VP2VPI, has been active on 40 meter CW, usually around 0200z. VP2V/W7YS was worked on 3505 kHz at 0245z.

CANCUN ISLAND, MEXICO. IOTA NA-045 is now active by John, K9EL. Check around 14195 kHz.

SPRATLY ISLANDS. This DXpedition could happen sometime in late April or early May. Stay tuned.

KINGMAN REEF. With the N9NS/KH5K DXpedition being history, all that is left is the paperwork. QSL via N9NS CBA ONLY.

How to find the Rec.radio.amateur.misc Frequently Asked Questions list

This article will tell you how to find the answers to frequently-asked Questions (FAQ) from rec.radio.amateur.misc. The FAQ articles are posted on the 7th of each month. This article is posted on the 22nd of every month as a reminder for where to find the FAQ.

The FAQ articles are intended to summarize some common questions on the rec.radio.amateur.misc newsgroup and Info-Hams mail list as well as to help beginners get started.

Besides the monthly posting, the FAQ is always available via anonymous FTP and from e-mail servers. This article contains instructions for obtaining a copy of the FAQ. It also contains the table of contents from the FAQ so that you know which questions are covered by it.

Please provide a copy of the FAQ to any new or soon-to-be Hams you know.

Regular FAQ postings can help save network bandwidth and maintain a good signal-to-noise ratio in the newsgroup. However, they can't do it alone - you, the reader, have to use them. If you are a new user, please print and review the FAQ articles and look at the instructions in the news.newusers newsgroup before posting any articles. If you are an experienced user, please help by refraining from answering frequently-asked questions on the newsgroup if they are already answered by the FAQ articles. Instead, send e-mail to the user who asked the question. (It will be helpful if you include the part of the FAQ that answers their question, but not the whole thing.)

--How to obtain a current copy of the FAQ-----

There are 3 ways to obtain a copy of the FAQ.

- 1) NetNews
- 2) Anonymous FTP
- 3) An Electronic Mail Server

Option #1: NetNews

If you are familiar enough with NetNews to look through previous articles on your system, Option #1 above may be the easiest for you. The FAQ is posted so that it should not expire from your site's news spool until the next one is posted. Unfortunately, some news administrators do not honor the expiration dates meant to preserve the FAQ.

Look in rec.radio.amateur.misc, rec.radio.info, rec.answers, or news.answers. If the FAQ has expired at your site, try Option #2 (and ask your news administrator to honor expiration dates for articles cross-posted to news.answers if he/she can.)

Option #2: Anonymous FTP

Anonymous FTP uses the File Transfer Protocol. It is only available to sites which are directly connected to the Internet. If you don't know how to use FTP and can't find a friend to help you, continue to Option #3. If your site is not connected to the Internet, you should also continue to Option #3.

The following sites have copies of the FAQ:

site name & address	path to FAQ articles
-----	-----
ftp.amdahl.com (129.212.11.1)	pub/radio/amateur/faq.[1-6].Z
ftp.cs.buffalo.edu (128.205.32.9)	pub/ham-radio/faq_ham_[1-6]
rtfm.mit.edu (18.172.1.27)	pub/usenet/news.answers/ham-radio-faq/part*

Remember, when connecting to the remote system, use the login name of "anonymous" and, as a courtesy to the site administrators, your e-mail address for the password.

Option #3: Electronic Mail Server

If you can't use Options 1 or 2, your only remaining option is electronic mail. You can retrieve a copy of the FAQ by sending a message to mail-server@rtfm.mit.edu

The body of your mail will contain a command for the mail server software. To get all of the FAQ (consisting of 70K of e-mail in 3 parts), place the following in the subject of your message:

send usenet/news.answers/ham-radio-faq/*

To obtain just one part, substitute the part number for the "1" in the following example:

send usenet/news.answers/ham-radio-faq/part1

Leave out the subject of your message because the mail server will ignore it.

I'll be in Vanuatu (YJ) from 18 April to 21 April. Don't have a callsign yet, but have been assured that I will get one.

At this point in time, I'm bringing my FT-890 and a dipole. I may get to use the VARS club station, but am not certain.

I'll try the WARC and novice bands as best I can.

1992 DXer of the Year - OH2BH

For the second consecutive year, Martti Lane has been picked by the DX community as DXer of the Year. There were 14 DXers nominated in all, and here are some that should receive "Honorable Mention" for their efforts and hard work:

Romeo/3W3RR, Baldur/DJ6SI, Ron/ZL1AM0 and Jaques/FR5ZU.

1992 DXpedition of the Year (by a group) - VP8SSI

There were 6 nominated. The VP8SSI had to be one of the most daring and dangerest DXpedition ever to take place. The weather conditions and stamina needed to make as many contacts as possible pushed DXing to the limits of human tolerance. The operation was one of the best and well organized DXpeditions.

1992 DXpedition of the Year (by an individual) - Ron ZL1AM0

Ron's activity in the Pacific and on Chatham Island probably won him this category. There were 17 individuals nominated in all, and here are some that should receive "Honorable Mention" for their efforts and hard work:

Romeo/3W3RR, Baldur/DJ6SI and Rudi/DK7PE.

(**) Means new to this year's list.

Editor's Analyzation: As you can see the list has changed quite a bit since last year. Because of major activity, there are eight countries that no longer appear on the "Top 20". These are: 5R, F0/X, FR/G, S2, VK9X, VP8/SG, VP8/SS, YA. There are eight new countries which now appear (marked **). Again, this survey was taken during December of 1992 thru February of 1993. So there will be more changes in the next year's survey because of the recent DXpeditions to AH1A and KH5K. This year there is a possibility of upcoming activity from 1S, 3V, 5A, 5X, 9G, FR/T and VK9/M, these too will be affected.

There is a simple solution to this. Ignore it. KA1FTW is essentially the same as a repeater jammer. Let them get your attention or dander up and they've accomplished their goal. Ignore them and they eventually go away.

On the other hand, this isn't a repeater like medium, so feel free to blast away at him via email. Sending several hundred megabytes of mail should keep him busy. Or at least render his email worthless. Perhaps some uncompressed scanned images of letters you would have written and sent via the postal service.

Subject: regular expression for possible call signs
To: info-hams@ucsd.edu

Many of you will have noticed that many people include their call sign in the comment field of their e-mail address, either before or after their name separated just by spaces. I have some software that does as good a job as it can at extracting full names from headers in e-mail and news articles. To strip out call signs, I devised this regular expression (in GNU Emacs Lisp syntax):

"\\(DX[0-9]+\\|\\[KNW\\][A-F]?[0-9][A-Z][A-Z][A-Z]?\\)"

I would like to hear comments on the correctness of this regular expression via e-mail. I don't read this news group. I appreciate any feedback.

Subject: Transmit Problem with Kenwood TM-621A Dual Band Xcvr

To: info-hams@ucsd.edu

I am posting this message to tap some of the vast knowledge that exists out there in Netland. I own a Kenwood dual band FM transceiver, the TM-621A, which covers the 144mhz band and 220mhz band (the rig was made before we lost have of this band). It has been working quite well for the last two years until recently. After a several month hiatus of non use, the rig will not transmit. It still receives quite well. When I transmit on the 222mhz band, the power output indicator flickers and I can hear the flicker in the speaker. Unfortunately, I do not have an SWR or wattmeter (next on my shopping list) to test the rig. However, I do notice that the resistance between ground and the transmitter output is between 0-5 ohms. This could not be normal?! Anyway, if anyone has any suggestions and/or know of a good repair shop in N.J. (or anywhere in the U.S.) I would welcome the advice. Thanks!!

no, his goal is to see if he can start up the flame war on this topic all over again, so he can sit back and laugh while this group gets clobbered with the flame war he started. that's the only real reason for such a post.

so, I suggest that everyone do the following: put this in your KILL file. don't respond (yeah, I know....here I am responding....). just let it die. don't give this guy the satisfaction of seeing his stupid flame war get out of control like the last one did.

I might just write a shell script that I'd thought about before, that will (since I also happen to be root on this machine) take anything from this thread, and actually completely remove the articles from my disk right after a newsfeed happens. this way, they won't even be wasting my hard disk space. if I can find out how to do it, I'll even take action to prevent this from even getting to this site (time to look into the NutShell book...I'm pretty sure I heard of a way to do this).

y'all have fun with your flame war if you must....by tomorrow (Monday), it will be completely GONE from n5ial.mythical.com. :-)

PS: around here, no-code techs are welcomed just as any other ham is.
